

Throwaway Children

Sharon Rutherford

A lit - tle boy with tears in his eyes, His lit - tle heart brea - king as he cries,
6
"Ma - ma, why did dad - dy go a - way? Is he gon - na come back some - day? I 10
guess he has a new fa - mi - ly, So now he's gon - na be their dad - dy."
14
"Oh, son, that just is - n't true! You're part of your dad - dy, and he's part of you.
18
That's the way it will al - ways be, There's some things that you just can't see."
22
Throw - a - way chil - dren e - very - where! Is - n't there a - ny - one to care? A 26
lit - tle child needs lots of sun, If he's to grow up to be some - one.
30
Lit - tle chil - dren co - ming home, The house is em - pty, they're all a - lone. They have 34
e - vry - thing that mo - ney can buy, But that does - n't help them as they cry.
38
"Ma - ma, lis - ten, Ma - ma, why?" "Don't bo - ther me now, I'll lis - ten by and by."
42
"Dad - dy, dad - dy, will you show me how?" "May - be la - ter, dad - dy's res - ting now."
46
Ma - ma and dad - dy co - ming home, The house is em - pty, they're all a - lone. Do you know where your chil - dren are? Get - ting high in a brand - new car.
50
54
Throw - a - way chil - dren e - very - where, Is - n't there a - ny - one to care?
58
Let's have a child, just be - cause, That's a good e - nough rea - son, e - vry - one does.
62

66 lit - tle girl cries all a - lone, Won - de - ring where has her Ma - ma gone. There
70 used to be such lo - ving hands,
72 Now there are on - ly grown - up de - mands.
74 "Ma - ma, Ma - ma, it hurts so much, I don't un - der - stand this touch. I 78 must be bad 'cause you went a - way, And let me be hurt this way." Now
82 lit - tle girl, it's not so bad, Just for - get, it won't seem so sad.
86 Ma - ma has to go and find her - self, You'll be just fine up - on this shelf.
90 Lit - tle chil - dren all in rows, "Are you my Ma - ma?" No one knows.
94 Off to the day - care, off to school, What a price to be a high - class fool!
98 "Who am I? Where do I be - long? Ma - ma, what is a lul - la - by song?"
102 Run - a - way dad - dies e - vry - where, Loo - king for some - thing that is - n't there. A
106 lit - tle child in tat - tered jeans, Ne - ver kho - wing what se - cu - ri - ty means.
110 Throw - a - way chil - dren e - vry - where, Is - n't there a - ny - one to care?
114 Look in - to their eyes, see a lost soul there, No one to pro - tect them, it is - n't fair.
118 Throw - a - way chil - dren, e - vry - where, Gro - wing up un - a - ble to care.
122 Trus - ting be - lie - ving no one, Throw - a - way chil - dren, do you know one?
126 Throw - a - way chil - dren, do you know one?
